Oil/Water Separators & Clarifiers

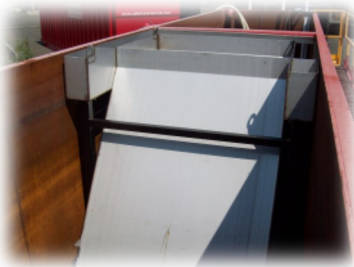

One Site at a Time

Theia Water offers Oil/Water Separators in a variety of designs, configurations, and materials to match your application requirements.

Oil Water Separators & Clarifiers Whether you have contaminants that float or sink, or both, we have you covered. We offer API separators, Inclined Plate (Lamella Type) Clarifiers as well as combined units that include both. We also offer a line of drop in/mobile units for temporary treatment systems or for upgrades and retrofits.

Theia offers a unique line of both separators and clarifiers which can utilize existing tanks and vaults which convert them into a clarifier or separator or both.

Clarifier Separators designed to remove settleable solids, suspended solids, and free and dispersed oil in one unit

Theia is known for providing solutions based on your application and your site. In order to be true to this philosophy, we have expanded the normal range of options for separators and clarifiers. We offer both clarifiers and separators in standard rectangular design as well as in our new cylindrical design.

These designs offer a reduced footprint while not requiring the excessive heights associated with standard inclined plate clarifiers

Our cylindrical units are fabricated from structurally reinforced polyethylene. These lighter weight units are just as strong as steel but designed for 75 year life and will stand up to virtually any water treatment application.
